His manuscripts, which are voluminous, and on various subjects, both literary and scientific, have remained in the hands of his family, to the present time; and the following selection has been made, merely as a specimen of poetick talent and literary acquirements. The fate of the residue will depend on the reception, with which this volume meets, from the American publick. The Author was a native of the State of New-York. He was educated at one of the oldest Colleges in this country, at which, he graduated at a very early age, and of which, he was afterwards an officer. After completing his professional studies and spending several years in the practice of medicine; with the view of qualifying himself for more extensive usefulness in his profession, he voluntarily relinquished a lucrative practice, and the endearments of home, and embarked for Europe. In the course of the voyage, the packet in which he sailed was attacked by a French privateer, and our author was slightly wounded. He, however, arrived in safety, and remained nearly three years abroad, not lounging about the cities, or flying from kingdom to kingdom, merely to gratify an idle curiosity, or to make a boast of what he had seen and where he had been; but in the diligent prosecution of the object, for which he...
